Scindia sails tomorrow.

The Mauna Loa did not get away until after 11:30 o'clock today.

The Panaluu stern buoy was taken back in the Mauna Loa this forenoon.

There is some racing stock aboard the bark Diamond Head. The animals will be taken off today.

The J A Campbell has taken the place of the Mary E Foster at Allen & Robinson's wharf. The latter is taking on sugar from the Waialeale.

It was the intention of the Inter Island Co to send the Iwalani to Hamakua today but this has been changed and she will not sail until tomorrow.

The Irmgard hauled alongside Wilder's wharf this forenoon and discharged her live stock. The Irmgard has made the record trip so far of the year 1899. She came from San Francisco in 11 days.

The Waialeale from Kilauea this morning, reports good weather on Kauai with a light northeast wind crossing the channel. The Kilohana was discharging coal at Waimea yesterday. There were 64,060 bags of sugar left on Kauai. Haunaulu was in the load with 14,000 bags.

The American steam whaler Jeannette, Newth master, arrived off port and came to an anchor early this morning, having sailed from San Francisco, March 2. She is on a cruise to the north after whales. Captain Newth came ashore this morning to purchase extra supplies. It was for this that the Jeannette called in here. She will probably continue on her way sometime today.

Proposed New Shipyard.

New York, March 8.—It was announced on Wall street today that the capitalists who plan to build a new shipyard on the Atlantic coast had secured the entire amount of subscriptions, $3,000,000. The location of the yard is still an open question. The places under consideration are New York, Baltimore and a place on the Delaware river. Youngstown, O, capitalists and investors in New York and Philadelphia subscribed most of the money.

Sign Boards Mark the Way.

No longer will people who have business at the Custom House be seen walking up and down on the sidewalk in front of this place, stretching their necks up to find some sign that might direct them to one department or the other, for now a neat new sign board in black and white is prominently displayed at each entrance. This much needed work was accomplished yesterday.
